“ Ashley, I am still shocked at the thought of saying see ya later. We met in 7th grade and were friends up until the day you were called home. First we lost Jenny on Easter Sunday, then Sabrina on June 19th and you were called home exactly 100 days after Jenny. I will never forget you and will always miss you. I will never forget our last hug, our last conversations. Losing you has been the most difficult because we had grown closer as the years flew by. I am numb, hurt, sometimes questioning my faith but I am blessed to have had you grace me with your presence in my life. You are truly an angel...and a friend that everyone hoped to find in life. I know you will watch over us all...save me a spot my friend.

“ My beautiful sister, confidont, partner in crime or says Astrology by her being Aquarius and me a Virgo. As my big sister, my only sibling, I'm at a loss a great loss, I never thought in a million years something so unfair would happen to us. But like a friend said "You were called home" I am going through so many motions wish I coulda, shoulda, woulda, but we all have a date with destiny I guess. I will do my very best to go on but this is the hardest moment in my life losing Mom wasnt that bad bc I had you to go through it with. Now you're really gone forever. I pray God comforts all of us that love you. I'm sorry Ashley I know you wanted to just live a peaceful, happy life. God knew you needed his help and knew stuff we'll never understand. I won't question him bc it isn't his fault. For satan brought death into this world, God called you home. I'm just lucky to be your sister, you can direct my path. Watch over all of us please ask God to comfort all of us that are devastated. My texting buddy, my lovely big sis. You will be missed. See you at the pearly gates along with Mom. Bye for now babe, love you to the moon and back.
